

Looking at the map above, it is the left (even) side of Morris Street that residents are requesting approval to be included in the existing residential parking zone.