WHEREAS, hospitalization rates for residents of the City attributable to chronic conditions such as diabetes, asthma, and heart disease are worsening at the highest rate in the region and the prevalence of asthma in New Haven’s school district (14.7%) is the highest of all other school districts in the region, as well as the statewide prevalence rate of 14.3%; and

WHEREAS, institutions such as the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention maintain that strategies to promote exercise and activity, such as the provision of transit, walking and biking infrastructure, are essential to the health of American communities; and

WHEREAS, the City’s Department of Transportation, Traffic and Parking, the City’s Office of Climate and Sustainability, Greater New Haven Transit District (“GNHTD”) and New Haven Parking Authority (“PARK New Haven”) all recognize the need to improve equitable and sustainable mobility options that would help meet the City’s broader climate goals, including ending community-wide greenhouse gas emissions by 2030, by enabling greater mobility without sole reliance on car ownership; and

WHEREAS, the Connecticut Department of Transportation (“CTDOT”) has issued a request for proposals, entitled the CTDOT Micro-transit Pilot Program (the “Pilot Program”) which is intended to spur the- development of on-demand micro-transit services, to be operated pursuant to the provisions of Public Act 22-40; and

WHEREAS, CTDOT requires municipalities which do not possess the vehicles, planning software, or staff necessary to operate the Pilot Program to partner with appropriate existing service providers (e.g., transit districts, taxi, livery, bus companies, transportation network companies) which are authorized by CTDOT to provide transportation services in the State of Connecticut (the “State”); and

WHEREAS, GNHTD is one of the 17 transit districts in the state that operates and provides a variety of transportation programs and services, and PARK New Haven operates and maintains numerous surface parking lots and garages in the center of the City and in surrounding neighborhoods; and

WHEREAS, Via Transportation Inc. (“Via”) has assisted numerous municipalities and transit agencies across the United States of America in implementing and operating on-demand micro-transit services; and

WHEREAS, it is desirable and in the public interest that the City or the City together with GNHTD, PARK New Haven and Via, make an application (the “Application”) to the CTDOT for up to $3,500,000 and to partner with the GNHTD, PARK New Haven and Via in order to carry out the Pilot Program and to execute an Assistance Agreement for such purpose.
